

We made every effort to ensure that the information contain herein is accurate and complete in order help you use our products. This page basically describes how and where you can obtain the information most relevant to your needs.

Documentation - Contains step-by-step instructions on how to effectively use our products.

FAQ - Consists of a collection of questions frequently asked by our customers. We strongly recommend that you read this section before posting your questions to us. Your questions may had already being answered in this section.

Known Issues - List of peculiar or common problems (due to the nature of certain operating systems) encountered or reported to us by our customers. However, these problems may not cause any harm or pose any threat to end users.

Release Notes - Whenever we launch new software releases, we will constantly update this section to inform you on the latest features and system requirements.

Report a Bug - If the problem that you encountered is not listed in any of the sections and you suspected it as a bug, we would appreciate if you could report the bug to us.

Web links - Comprises links to third party web sites that contain useful information related to Intellego's products and services.

Download - Contains list of downloadable software products or modules.

—

DISCLAIMER : We hold no responsibilities or liabilities for any errors or omissions. Intellego

Solutions Sdn Bhd reserves the right to make any changes without further notice to any products herein.